

Manufacturing furniture solutions...

Welcome to our first newsletter for 2017, we can't believe it is April already. We hit the ground running this year and continue to have a good volume of product running through the factory. The whole team have been putting in a great effort to keep up with the work load and while our lead times have drifted out a bit, new staff coming on board will help us to pull the lead times back so its onwards and upwards.

Product Review

The following seating products have been discontinued. We've been manufacturing some of these lines for many years but they've come to the end of their life cycle and we'll be sorry to see them go. Please take note and kindly update your sales material accordingly. We expect a full revised price list to be available for distribution at the end of the month.
